

3. Visitors to another library would be able to easily find the books they need if the sorting system were the same.

Copyright © Glencoe/McGraw-Hill, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.

1. Answers will vary. Students should indicate that they can find a book by subject, by reference number, or by asking for help.

2. Books would be difficult or nearly impossible to find.

1. How can you find a book in a library?
2. If books were not sorted by subject and number, how would readers be affected?
3. Why would it be helpful to use the same system for organizing books at all libraries?