

3. Some plants have vascular systems that move liquids throughout the plant.

Copyright © Glencoe/McGraw-Hill, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.

1. The straw transports liquid nutrients to the human body.
2. The cardiovascular system is an internal system that moves liquid nutrients through the body.

1. What is the purpose of using a straw to drink?
2. What human body system performs a similar function?
3. How is a plant's system for moving liquids similar to a drinking straw?